

SUMMER ~~AT~~ with THE MUSEUMS

The objects in the Museum of Cambridge tell the story of how people have lived and worked for over 300 years. One of these objects is a little box with many, many compartments. Inside this there are all sorts of things which the owner collected: rocks, seeds, a fossil, a key and handy tools such as scissors.

It can be great fun looking for interesting or unusual things and collecting them. Why not use the drawing below and fill it with your own favourite things or something you have found? You can stick or draw things into each section. Some of them have suggestions for you to follow, and the blank ones can be filled with anything you like.

You can be as imaginative as you want and fill it with magical or precious items.

Something shiny			Something patterned
		Something with polka dots
	Something from nature		Something spiky